STPRA Border Security and Immigration Reform Plan

It is imperative that the United States of America establish sovereign borders and provide a reasonable level of security to its citizens, while maintaining a viable business climate for the free market to thrive and prosper. These priorities will only be accomplished if the policies listed below are enacted and implemented. Any failure to do so will enable the black market and the cartels to continue to exert excessive influence, not only in our southern border region, but throughout our nation.

- Increase Border Patrol personnel, technology, equipment and south-bound inspections

- De-magnetize the incentives to cross illegally by implementing the following:

- Bio-metric ID for immigrants/legal residents,

- Market-based guest worker program that ensures that Agriculture has a continued supply of replacement labor,

- Criminal background and health checks for all currently illegal residents and future guest workers,

- Strict employer enforcement in hiring and compensating workers;

- Require that employers are in compliance with existing labor laws
